With the passage of the California Foster Youth Sexual Health Education Act (SB 89), all California foster youth age 10 and older are required to be informed of their reproductive and sexual health rights annually. SB 89 requires this information to be age-appropriate and medically accurate.

John Burton Advocates for Youth has developed a series of fact sheets for case managers to communicate this important information as part of the Los Angeles Reproductive Health Equity Project for Foster Youth (LA RHEP). Also developed is a script for case managers to help them navigate these sensitive conversations. Fact sheets are available for three age groups: tweens/early adolescents, middle adolescents, and transition aged youth/young adults.

Please join John Burton Advocates for Youth and LA RHEP on Thursday, May 16th from 10:00 to 11:30 am for a web seminar to learn more about the requirement to inform youth of their sexual health rights, the content of the sexual health facts sheets and how to use the suggested scripts.

The training will be led by adolescent and sexual health expert Erica Monasterio, RN, MN, FNP, who led the development of the fact sheets and accompanying case manager guide.
